WAR DEBTS TO BE ADJUSTED NOW PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—A basis for adjustment of war debts due the United States by France and smaller European countries will be reached this fall, administration officials predicted today. The government now has a more optimistic view not only of the ability of France and other countries to liquidate their debts, but is confident that a way soon will be opened for settlement of the reparations problem. The deadlock over reparations is expected to be broken before winter, and this adjustment, officials believe, will clear up most of Europe's financial troubles.

A hopeful forecast of European economic situation is formed from the impressions gathered by government officials of high rank who have just returned from Europe. These views are now before the President and his cabinet. They provide foundation for the administration's confidence that European debtors will pay the United States in full. There is strong belief that Great Britain and France will reach an understanding that will pave the way to stabilization.

At the treasury department, officials said that the American debt funding commission has made no plan to resume debt discussions with France or other nations involved, until further definite advices come from the debtor nations with which the negotiations were begun some months ago. Officials said delay is not an unfavorable factor in the debt situation.

The situation in France reflects speedy industrial recovery, observers reported. Many French cities ruined by the war now resemble boom towns of the West in their race to rebuild and get upon a more solid industrial footing. France is fully employed and prosperous. Even in Germany the productive capacity is said to be larger than before the war.

SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. FIFTH

The public schools will open on Wednesday, September 5th, this year, instead of on Monday as usual. This delay is occasioned by the fact that the fair is in session and the students will be permitted to attend.

The prospects for a large attendance at the schools this year are very good, according to Superintendent Shelton. He suggests that those who have not already arranged to enter high school should see Principal R. P. Vaughn at once so that it will avoid confusion on the opening day.

The first teachers' meeting will be held on Monday, according to the superintendent, when final instructions will be given.

BUCYRUS, Aug. 21.—The annual Chautauqua, which closed here last week, closed with a profit of one dollar and forty-six cents. The Chautauqua for next year has been assured by pledges to back the project by those in attendance.

Find Babe Dead In Sewer Mouth

CINCINNATI, O., Aug 21.—Following the finding of the body of a two weeks old girl at the mouth of a sewer on the bank of the Ohio river yesterday afternoon, Miss Druscilla Anderson, 20, of Carlisle, Ky., who admitted she was the mother of the baby, was detained early this morning by detective-lieutenant Eugene T. Weatherly and Detective George Karman The young woman was wandering on the street.

Miss Anderson told police she took the child from General hospital Sunday afternoon and went to the mouth of the sewer, under cover of darkness, believing the child to be dead.

Composed and apparently without realization of what she had done, Miss Anderson related the story of how her sweetheart, a soldier, left her, how a friend with whom she went to Sunday school in childhood days in Kentucky hills tried to give counsel and aid, and finally, driven to desperation because she feared she could not keep the babe, she cast it into the mouth of the sewer.

An identification tag left on the babe's wrist at the hospital led to the police search.

NATIONS RATIFY FIVE-POWER NAVAL PACT

Left to right: Signor Augusto Rosso for Italy, Mr. H. C. Chilton for Great Britain, Charles Evans Hughes for the United States, Mr. Andre de la Boulaye for France and Mr. Masanao Hanihara for Japan.

At the diplomatic rooms of the state department in Washington five men, representing the great powers of the world, recorded the final approval of the powers for the treaties drafted by the arms conference to end naval competition, terminate the Anglo-Japanese alliance and sweep away the war clouds that have hovered for decades over the Pacific. Scrapping of the ships which is to effect the United States, England and Japan is to begin at once and be completed before six months.

TURKEY TURNS AGAINST WOMEN HAVING A VOTE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 21—The dominant Kemalist party in Turkey, which has been loudly acclaiming woman suffrage, suddenly turned enemy to this reform today. The Angora government, which is controlled by the Kemalists, forbade members of the feminist party to participate in Turkish politics, even under the innocuous name of "the women's committee"

The government tersely explained if the Turkish women concerned themselves with the care of their homes, their families and the war orphans, they would have their hands full and have no time for politics.

Evidently Mustapha Pasha used the suffrage plank as he had formerly used the prohibition plank, with no intention of putting it into effect, but with the aim of abandoning it when convenient.

Thousands of Constintinople suffragists are preparing to appeal to Kemal's young wife, Latifeh Kemal, but it is unlikely she will participate in a quarrel which threatens widespread publicity. She believes in votes for women, however.

The foreign relations committee of the national assembly has approved the Lausanne treaty. Its complete ratification by the national assembly is expected soon.

There is much speculation here over the identity of the new American ambassador. Rear Admiral Mark Bristol is popular and there was deep regret when he departed. He acted as United States high commissioner.

All the allied forces will have evacuated Constinople by the first week in October, leaving behind many problems unsettled.

POLICE ARREST CLEVELAND MAN

Baron's car stood near the corner of Middle avenue and Broad street at the time of the accident, and it was badly damaged.

Bernard was locked up on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. The police found a full pint bottle of whisky on his person, which they confiscated.

FIREMEN DIE BROOKLYN FIRE MANY INJURED

NEW, YORK, Aug. 21.—Two firemen were killed and 41 injured early today when the roof and one of the walls of the three-story building housing the new Plaza dance hall, in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, collapsed as fire was sweeping the structure.

The building was an old landmark and for years was the old Masonic Temple. About 50 firemen were in the structure fighting the blaze when the roof and walls collapsed without warning.

The old structure was gutted. Firemen had been ordered inside to extinguish the last remaining sparks. Then the crash came

With a roar the roof went down, carrying with it one of the side walls.

As the great shower of debris came down, burying the firemen beneath the wreckage, those outside the structure became a maddened mob of rescuers. Firemen, police and bystanders, unmindful of their own danger, plunged into the ruins. The rescuers dug and kicked at the debris to rescue the buried firemen.

Calls for assistance brought ambulances and physicians to the scene.

Reports of a great loss of life began to spread. One report had it that 20 firemen had been killed, another that 11 bodies had been recovered.

As the rescuers dug at the ruins they soon uncovered many of the imprisoned firemen.

Hope had been abandoned for six men known to have been on the roof when it caved in. It seemed impossible that these men could have escaped from the seething furnace into which they had seemingly plunged. But one by one they reported to their commanders, their eyes full of sweat and grime as they begged for news of their comrades.

Many firemen escaped by their own wit and coolness in the fraction of a second that the warning of the collapse gave. Others were dragged to safety by their comrades

Deputy Chief O'Hara, in charge of the Brooklyn fire forces, was saved by his chauffeur, who dragged him from harm's way in the nick of time.

As fireman after fireman was rescued hope began to dawn that no one had lost his life. This hope was soon abandoned, however, when another rescuer, digging at a pile of hot bricks, came across the bodies of two firemen. They had been burned almost beyond recognition. They were Raymond Farrell and James Sullivan of Engine Company No. 230.

The fire started shortly after midnight Within an hour the interior of the building was ablaze from cellar to roof Hard work by the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to a row of tenements. Dense smoke hampered the firemen. Four alarms were turned in. Police reserves were summoned. Tenants were ordered from nearby homes. Trolley traffic was tied up The damage was estimated at $250,000.

POSSES HUNT TRAIN BANDIT IN HOLD UP

PAWHUSKA, Okla, Aug. 21 — Believing the bandit, Al Spencer, was at the head of the gang which early today held up Missouri, Kansas & Texas southbound train No. 123 at Okesa, escaping with several registered mail packags, posses quickly organized a widespread hunt in the Osage hills.

All surrounding counties also are reported organizing posses to search for the bandits, who left the scene of the robbery in three motor cars

Residents of Okesa reported that Al Spencer was seen in that vicinity Sunday. Spencer is a much hunted, much feared Oklahoma bandit.

Cutting the train in two after several shots were fired, the band succeeded in making a haul without molestation from the train crew. The engineer and fireman were ordered to take the baggage and mail cars to a place a mile south of the station, where five masked men rifled the registered mail. About 20 packages were taken, the value of which could not be learned.

When Engineer Walter Burch and Fireman B. D Towers were confronted with the command to "Pull out," authorities say they at first refused, but complied when several shots were fired from the outside to frighten them.

One of the robbers is said to have shot through the cab window.

Another inflicted scalp wounds on Towers' head and Burch also sustained slight wounds

PRESIDENT NOW TRIES TO SOLVE MOSCOW SOVIET

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Hardly waiting until the ink was dry on the agreements which are to form the basis for recognition of the Mexican government by the United States, President Coolidge has undertaken a personal study of the Russian situation and the events which lie at the root of American antagonism to the Moscow soviet, it was learned here today.

An outline of the policy of the Harding administration toward Moscow was given to Mr. Coolidge several days ago by Secretary of State Hughes and endorsed by the president in principle, but he has decided to go into the question more fully and carefully and to acquaint himself with all possible details of Russia's economic conditions and political affairs

Without ignoring the official record on the Russian situation as assembled by the state department, the president plans a series of conferences with senators congressmen and prominent citizens who have investigated conditions in Russia during the past few months.

The first of these conferences was held last night at the New Willard hotel with former Secretary of the Interior Fall, who has just returned to Washington after spending several weeks in Russia and other European countries.

Fall told the president he did not think any government in Europe was as sound financially as that of the soviet, but he still doubted the ability or willingness of the soviet leaders to give adequate guarantees for the protection of foreign property rights, therefore making it unwise and impossible for the United States to extend political recognition, as in the case of Mexico, where the rights of American nationals have been established

Other American investigators of conditions in Russia are to be received by the president within the coming weeks and arguments both for and against recognition will be presented Several members of the senate have visited Russia during the summer and all will be welcomed at the White House when they get back and invited to give their views to the president.

While these conferences are in progress Mr. Coolidge will continue to regard the Russian situation with an open mind and will make no departure from the policy of the Harding administration.

Secretary Hughes had planned to report to the cabinet today on the negotiations looking to the recognition of Mexico, but President Coolidge called off the scheduled meeting because so few of the members of his official family are in town.

The president conferred this morning, however, with R B Creager of Brownhelm, Texas, who has been prominently mentioned for appointment as the new American ambassador to Mexico City Creager formerly lived in Marion, Ohio, and was offered the Mexican post two years ago by President Harding when it appeared that the Obregon government soon was to be recognized.

GENEROUS DONOR ADDS NEW PARK TO CITY SYSTE

OPERATORS AND MINERS STILL FAIL TO AGREE

BULLETIN

ATLANTIC CITY, N J., Aug. 21.—The conference of miners and operators of the anthracite field broke up in a disagreement at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The new deadlock developed over wages, John L. Lewis, international president of the Mine Workers of America, announced.

ATLANTIC CITY, N J., Aug. 21.—With a strong belief pervading conference circles that the operators "are about to offer something which will prevent a strike," representatives of the anthracite miners and operators today went into the second session of their resumed negotiations in an effort to effect peace in the anthracite field before the present wage agreement expires August 31.

Samuel D. Warriner, chief spokesman for the operators, continued to maintain the attitude that the anthracite industry cannot stand a wage increase, but despite his view the report was prevalent that the employers are prepared to suggest a compromise advance in wages.

It was expected, however, that the operators' offer will fall considerably below the 20 percent increase demanded by the miners.

Armed with documents and data to substantiate their claims that the mine workers are entitled to the 20 percent increase for contract miners and $2 a day for day workers, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other union officials were ready to fight out "demand number 2," as they call it. The check off issue temporarily has been put in the background.

"Yesterday the operators gave us no encouragement in our wage demand," Lewis said, "and today we will continue to press for its settlement in order to take up the other demands that must be disposed of before an agreement is affected."

In support of their resistance of the wage demand, Warriner and the other operators' representatives had amassed an array of figures to show that concession to the demand as propounded by the miners would add $2 a ton to the cost of anthracite to the consumer and would represent a cost to the employers of $300,000,000.

The government is maintaining an intense interest in the negotiations. In addition to the daily report sent out to the United States coal commission, an agent of the department of justice is said to be watching the proceedings and making detailed reports.

BEVERLY COURT TO BE PAVED

The city council last evening decided to repave Beverly court. A delegation of citizens was present and stated that the pavement there needed attention at once or it would be destroyed. They expressed their willingness to stand their share of the expense and urged that the work be done this year. After considerable discussion it was decided to proceed with the work and the proper legislation was passed.

Elyria Banks Resent Rumor

During the past few days a rumor has been current in some parts of the county, particularly Ridgeville, that Elyria banks were involved in the operations of the Dollings Co., which recently went into the hands of a receiver.

A canvass was made of the various banks this morning, and it brought a prompt denial. As a matter of fact, the banks have never purchased a dollar of these securities, or taken them for loans Furthermore, every one of them advised their customers not to invest in any such securities, as there are plenty of safe investments in real estate to be had, or first mortgages to be purchased. How such a rumor could have gained circulation is a problem, for there is not a word of truth in it.

DEFIANCE, Aug. 21.—Members of the East Defiance Men's Booster Club are considering installing a 60 by 120 foot swimming pool in the recreation park they are setting up at the junction of the Maumee and Auglaize rivers.

The city of Elyria, received another fine addition to her [illegible] public parks last evening when the council accepted the gift of W. A. Ely of nearly fifty-five acres of land located along the river in the rear of his home at the head of Washington avenue.

The presentation was made by L. L. Moise, accompanied by a letter from Mr. Ely containing the terms of the gift.

It states that the new park shall be called Elywood, and that it shall be used for park purposes only. The city is to preserve it's natural beauty, and are to erect only such buildings on it as are necessary. If any other buildings are to be erected Mr. Ely is to be consulted The property reverts to Mr. Ely or his heirs if the conditions are not complied with.

Mayor Jones was present, and expressed his deep appreciation of the generous gift. "Here is a gift to the people of Elyria that cannot be measured in dollars and cents," he said. "However, this property if placed on the market would be worth close to $200,000. The council should make it a point to see that it is properly improved. A swiming pool should be built, and a bridge wide enough for autos to pass over should be erected connecting Elywood with Cascade park."

Mr. Ely was prompted to give this property after watching some boys last winter coasting down hill. His heart went out to the children of Elyria, and he then decided that this beautiful spot should be preserved for them for all time. It is a monument to his generosity that the entire city will appreciate. No city in the State will have a better park than we have right here, and on the part of the citizens I will to extend their sincere thanks.

Councilman Hewells moved a letter of appreciation be sent Mr. Ely voicing the thanks of council, and it was unanimously passed. An ordinance had been prepared accepting the gift, and this was also passed. Councilman Rawson also moved that a vote of thanks be extended to T. L. Moise, attorney D. B. Symons, and surveyors Warden & Laundon for their interest they had taken in securing the gift, preparing the legislation and laying out the property.

The new park is beautifully wooded. Entrance on the west is near the end of Ohio street. It extends along the river to the east as far as Gulf Farms. The opening up of the new addition on the Ely property, and the extension of Washington avenue which will be called Washington boulevard adds to the value of the property, as it is expected that many fine homes will be built in that locality, and will add to the value of the park.

This generous gift calls attention to the fact that if it was not for the Ely family Elyria would have no park system. When the town was first laid out over one hundred years ago, Heman Ely, Sr. sent a surveyor here and as a result, a town site was laid out. It provided for the location of the present city park, a place that has been enjoyed for years by generation after generation. Back in the 70's Mrs. Charles Arthur Ely, mother of W. A. Ely threw open the grounds on Washington avenue around her home to the public and named it Elywood. Stairs were built leading to the bottom lands along the river, and many social events were held there. It gradually passed into disuse, but has always been a resort for those who wished to get close to nature.

Along in the early 80's through the efforts of Mr. George H. Ely the Ely heirs presented the city with what is now Cascade Park, one of the beautiful spots in Ohio, with as fine scenery as can be found anywhere. Later through the efforts of a number of citizens Reefy park adjoining it on the north was purchased. Of late years the two parks have become very popular and thousands of people visit it every year. The addition of Elywood makes a park system that can be made the finest in the State, and as time goes on and improvements are made it will be one of the show spots of the city.

TEXAN TO HAVE MEXICAN POST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—President Coolidge had a long conference at the White House today with Rentfro B. Creager, of Brownsville, Tex., and is reported to have offered to make him the new American ambassador to Mexico, contingent upon the expected recognition of the Obregon government.

R. B. Creager.

This diplomatic appointment was promised Creager two years ago by President Harding but plans for recognition of Mexico at that time did not materialize.

While the president and Creager were discussing Mexican affairs at the White House Secretary Hughes held further conferences with Charles Beecher Warren and John Barton Payne, the American representative in the negotiations recently concluded at Mexico city.

In sending Creager to Mexico City, President Coolidge would bring into the diplomatic service the recognized republican leader of for building up the party's organization in the southwest establishing branches in 240 out of 254 counties during the past two years, compared with but 89 in 1921. This report is now being drafted by Secretary Hughes.

BIG AIRPLANE HOPS OFF TODAY

DAYTON, O., Aug. 21.—Interest of the aeronautical world centers at Wilbur Wright field today.

The Barling bomber, the largest airplane in the world, is scheduled to make its initial flight at 6 o'clock this evening.

The crew which will navigate this ship will be Lieutenant H. R. Harris, pilot; Lieutenant M. S. Fairchild, assistant, Walter H. Barling, designer, and Douglas Culber, engineer.

Final adjustments on the big tri-plane were made at Wilbur Wright field yesterday afternoon under the direct supervision of Mr. Barling. Lieutenant Harris gave his final approval of work done on the ship following close scrutiny of all its parts.

All that remains to be determined in regard to the test flight is how long the ship will remain in the air. It was stated by McCook officials last night that it is expected that the bomber will remain aloft long enough to test the relative points of advantage which its designer hopes to attain through its construction on such large scale.

Whether or not Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, will be present today when the bomber takes off, was unknown to McCook officials last night. Word that the ship will leave the ground today on its initial flight was communicated yesterday to Major General Patrick but no word had been received from the air service chief concerning his arrival last night.

Major General Patrick had expressed a desire to witness the first flight of the big plane, but left the time of the trial to the discretion of McCook field officials. Unless orders are received at the field today to the contrary the big ship will take off according to present plans, whether the air service chief is present or not.

Although the eyes of all Dayton citizens will be focused on the skies this afternoon to catch the first glimpse of the Barling bomber for the first time in full flight, few will be privileged to see the ship when it starts down the field.

The only exceptions will be for the benefit of official observers of special racing events, members of the Dayton Air Service committee and press representatives.

It is expected that a few preliminary hops will be executed by the bomber during the day.

POLICE HUNT STOLEN BABY

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—New Jersey police and state troopers today aided New York police in their hunt for the strange, plainly dressed woman who is believed to be the kidnapper of three months old Lillian McKenzie, stolen from her carriage last Saturday while her mother was shopping.

The Jersey police joined in the woman hunt when the first tangible clews as furnished by printers at Union Hill, New Jersey. The printers reported seeing a woman, about 20 years old, very nervous, step into a black touring car with an infant in her arms. The baby was wrapped in a pink blanket. The McKenzie baby was swathed in a similar blanket.

Today police guards were placed at all baby hospitals and other institutions to which the abductor might take the baby for the medical attention it is said she must have to live.

The puny condition of the child, according to its mother and physician makes necessary a special diet which, if not strictly adhered to, may result in death.

POLICE ARREST BOOTLEGGERS IN BIG RAID

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—Swooping down upon elaborately furnished offices here, which had been operating as a matrimonial newspaper business, secret service men today unearthed what they declare to be a vast bootlegging and revenue stamp counterfeiting conspiracy. A large quantity of bogus stamps and labels, ranging from physicians prescriptions to imitations of the choicest liquor labels was siezed by the government agents who arrested five men and a woman.

In addition, several complete stills, a dozen cases of whiskey and about 100 gallons of alcohol were seized.

The offices also were supposed to house the consolidated importing and Exporting company, and the Montreal Bottlers corporation, but according to the government agents served only as a blind to the counterfeiting plant.

A large mailing list was found in the office showing that the fake labels had been shipped to many points in this country and Canada. This indicated, according to Joseph Palma, secret service chief for New York that much of the supposedly genuine liquor smuggled from Canada is merely bootleg.

Those arrested are: Joseph B. Robinson, who the agents say was the leading power in the organization, Allen Snow, Herman Friedlander, Joseph Serpico, Dr. Adolph Lappner and his wife, Rose.

GOVERNORS TO SEE COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—President Coolidge has made tentative plans for calling a conference of state governors in Washington to discuss the enforcement of the national prohibition law, it was learned officially at the White House this afternoon. The fact that such a conference would be called by Mr Coolidge was announced exclusively by International News Service two weeks ago.

COOLIDGE WILL OPPOSE CHAMBER

WASHINGTON, Aug 21—The Coolidge administration is desirous of rendering every assistance to American business, it was declared officially at the White House today. In this connection it was stated, however, that the president does not approve of the plan of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce to establish a separate federal adjustment board to handle the flexible tariff provision of the Fordney-McCumber act.

LIMA, Aug. 21.—Tira Duff, Lakeview farmer charged with the murder of Ora Van Horn, a neighbor, was held to the Logan county grand jury without bond on a first degree murder charge, when arraigned before Justice Pettit, Bellefontaine. According to his own announcement, Duff will plead the "unwritten law." He alleges he slew Van Horn when he intercepted his neighbor in the act of driving with his wife in an automobile. Duff says Van Horn tried to brush him off the running board of the moving auto and that then he fired the shot which instantly killed Van Horn.

SAYS FARMERS MAY FEED THEIR STOCK WHEAT

COLUMBUS, Aug. 21.—"Perhaps as much as 25 per cent of Ohio's wheat crop may be fed to livestock on farms this year," declared Statistician C. J. West of the Federal-State crop reporting bureau, here today. Mr. West stated that reports from crops in all sections of the State indicate a heavy increase in the amount of wheat that will be consumed in this manner.

"Many farmers are holding back to sell later, in the belief that the price may improve," said Mr. West. "The relatively high price for corn is responsible for a considerable portion of the increase in feeding. The wet weather of Central Ohio has seriously injured the grain still in the field and has rendered a part of it unfit for market and suitable only for feeding."

FAVORS CLEMENCY TO POLITICAL PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. — A change in the policy of the Federal government toward wartime political prisoners was forecast in high administration circles. Although opposed to granting general amnesty to these prisoners, President Coolidge, it was learned officially, desires to extend every possible clemency to those persons still confined in Federal penitentiaries for war-time offenses.

LOS ANGELES GAS SELLS AT TEN CENTS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug 21.—Gasoline sold for ten cents a gallon in Los Angeles today. The ten cent sign was displayed at several filling stations. Motorists lined up in double columns to fill their fuel tanks.

For some time motorists have been able to secure gasoline as low as 13 cents a gallon in the oil field district and 14 cents a gallon as a common price paid in Los Angeles proper.

The "big four" comprised of the Standard, Union, Shell and Ventura companies continued today to sell for 17 cents or 15 cents to coupon book holders and refused to say whether they would slash the prices. The independent dealers say they are selling at a low price because of an over stocked market.

Mary has rosy cheeks now too

Mother says it's good for me
Because it's bran and all, you see.
I'll eat this bowlful, then another,
So I will grow as big as mother.

Mapl-Flake is a whole wheat flake with all the bran left in it. Not too much bran—why, you'd never know it's there unless we told you! But enough roughage to "sweep" the digestive tract—a natural regulator such as Mother Nature intended us to take.

No wonder Mary has rosy cheeks. In addition to the bran, she gets a well balanced, appetizing food. This whole wheat flake is rich in life-giving vitamins—it not only stimulates the appetite but furnishes fuel to feed it.

Mapl-Flake is food—far better than medicine. Be a "Mapl-Flaker," forget about "taking bran" as a duty—eat it in Mapl-Flake as a pleasure.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year?

To rid the pesky bedbug, you readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones.

P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery Pesky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q."

A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cooties and at the same time destroy their eggs.

Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free a patent spout in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get-at places and save the juice.

P. D. Q. is not an insect powder, no mess or dust, does not rot or burn the bedding.

P. D. Q. for family use 85c. Hospital size $2.50 makes five gallons. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.

Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled.

THEATRES

Dreamland—Today, Eddie Polo in Captain Kidd, 7, 8 and 9, and a good comedy. Tomorrow, "Nobody's Bridge," starring Herbert Rawlinson. A great story of the underworld. Colonial—Last presentation of Alice Terry in "Turn to the Right." Wednesday, Alice Terry and Lewis Stone in "The Prisoner of Zenda," one of the strongest pictures ever seen on the screen. Also a fine feature film and a good comedy.

Grand—"The Flirt," is making a hit and has been seen by large audiences who give it their approval. It is full of human interest and incidents that are true to life. In addition there is another of Paul Terry's cartoons and a very funny comedy.

AKRON, Aug. 21.—Some folks think it is bad luck to postpone a wedding. A few of this kind called at the courthouse the day of the city-county annual picnic, when no licenses were issued. Two of the young brides-elect burst into tears when they learned their weddings would have to be delayed.

One man demanded to know "What's the reason there can be no license issued today?"

He was asked if he had not read that the courthouse would be closed all that day

"Sure I read it," he said. "But I didn't pay any attention to it.

The Only Problem Jim Felt He Couldn't Solve.

It was, I think, a full minute after Jim had placed in my hand the scarab scarfpin which I recognized as Harry Underwood's, before I raised my eyes from a tense fascinated scrutiny of the quaint bauble to meet Jim's eyes fixed upon me with a lively but respectful curiosity

The sight of the trinket had brought a vivid memory flash of the first time I had seen it, when Harry Underwood had twisted it from his tie and given it to me with the theatrical injunction to send it to him if I should "get into a jam with a gang you don't know."

The "jam" had come sooner than I anticipated I had been taken from my car by men under the leadership of Grace Draper and removed to the lonely country estate of the mysterious man who had headed the plot against the government so signally foiled by the efforts of my father, Lillian Underwood and Allen Drake.

Madge Is Puzzled.

During my imprisonment there I had dispatched the pin to Harry Underwood, masquerading among the plotters as the "Big Tangerine" and he had saved me from death just before the tragic and melodramatic capture of the plotters was consummated

I had noted the pin in his scarf in the way one sees in the most tense moments, when I had regained consciousness after that terrific scene, and he had bidden Dicky and me a theatrical farewell. I recognized the touch of theatricalism which is never absent from him, in again dispatching the pin to me in so flamboyant a fashion

Whatever his connection with the fugitive bootlegger might be, and my mind ran the gamut of a dozen surmises sane and otherwise, there could be no possible reason for his permitting Jim to recognize him, when he easily could have managed otherwise, or for sending the scarab scarfpin to me. He must have yielded involuntarily, and against his common sense, to the love for the dramatic which is one of his strongest characteristics and dispatched the bizarre message to me.

That it was a message, I did not doubt, but I had neither leisure nor inclination to puzzle my brain over it. There was but one thing to do now, and I did it, promptly.

"Jim," I asked quietly, "you say you didn't see the face of the man who pinned this inside your coat. Did you recognize his voice, or his figure?"

"He Was Mr. Underwood."

"I—I couldn't swear to him, Ma'am," he said, while I reflected that swearing to Harry Underwood's identity was the last thing in the world I should require of Jim, "but—he was an awful lot like Mrs. Underwood's husband, you know, Ma'am, the man who used to come to Marvin when you folks first lived there."

"He was Mr. Underwood, Jim," I said slowly. "This is a scarfpin of his which I have seen often. I do not know why he was helping the bootlegger to escape—perhaps he can explain later. But—for many reasons—I think you would better say nothing about him when the troopers come."

I already figured that out, Mis' Graham," Jim said with a faint touch of reproach in his manner. "That's the reason I didn't make even the little noise I could through the gag when I saw the trooper moseying around near me. I never mix up with things I don't understand, and besides, if that Mr. Underwood had a car, they were out of reach by that time."

"I am very glad you were so thoughtful," I returned. "Is Mr. Underwood's overcoat still out there—the one he put under you?"

"I wanted to ask you about that, Ma'am," he returned. "You see, I didn't want Katie to see that coat—she's the best girl in the world, Katie is," he interrupted himself loyally, "but sometimes, when she gets excited she lets things slip that ought to be kept, so I didn't say nothing about it. And then we found the little boy, and since then everything's been upset, so I couldn't go back. But I don't think we ought to leave it lying there. Somebody might stumble on it and wonder."

"Put some good strong paper and twine in your pocket and slip out there as soon as you can," I said "Don't use the flashlight any more than you have to, but put the coat into as small a bundle as possible before you bring it back to the house. Give it to me without anyone seeing you do it, as soon as you can—and forget you ever saw it."

"I'll hurry out there right away," he said, "and I'll tell the troopers when they come that I tackled the bootlegger, but he got away from me. That's kind of humiliatin' when it took the big man to tie me up, but they won't know the tying-up part, and if I hadn't stayed on top of that man, he could have got away easy."

"But, Ma'am," his jaw dropped, "Katie knows I was tied up. How you goin' to manage about her?"

Oberlin Protests Green Line Loss

OBERLIN, Aug. 21.—At the council meeting held Friday night the abandonment of the Norwalk division of the C. S. & C railroad was discussed. Council is not in favor of it and will probably protest, yet reasons somehow that the C. S. & C. must do something since it is running this division at a loss. This would mean considerable loss to Oberlin merchants in the way of customers. As Oberlin is a college town the country people and those of the surrounding towns must be depended upon to keep the stores open during the summer. The townspeople can't do it. In all Oberlin would suffer not only from this but also from reaching Norwalk and the small towns between. Busses might answer.

Auto Club To Picnic Orphans

OBERLIN, Aug. 21.—On Sept. 5 the Oberlin Auto club plans to give a picnic to the children of the county home. There are about 40 in all who will attend. Twenty-four of these can be carried in the home bus and the rest will be carried in private cars. The picnic will be held at Ruggles and there will be games, sports and prizes for all, besides something good to eat furnished by the club and cooked by the members' wives. The prizes will probably be offered by the merchants. Last year the picnic was omitted on the date planned because of several cases of scarlet fever.

POEMS THAT LIVE

STAY, O SWEET

Stay, O sweet, and do not rise'
The light that shines comes from thine eyes;
The day breaks not: it is my heart,
Because that you and I must part.
Stay! or else my joys will die,
And perish i ntheir infancy.

'Tis true, 'tis day; what though it be?
O will thou therefore rise from me?
Why should we rise because 'tis light?
Did we lie down because 'twas night?
Save which in spite of darkness
brought us hither,
Should in despite of light keep us together.

Light hath no tongue, but is all eye.
If it could speak as well as spy,
This were the worst that it could say:
That, being well, I fain would stay,
And that I lov'd my heart and honour so,
That I would not from him, that had them go.

Must business thee from hence remove?
Oh, that's the worst disease of love!
The poor, the fool, the false love can
Admit, but not the busied man.
He, which hath business, and makes love, doth do
Such wrong, as when a married man doth woo.

—John Donne.

Tagging The Bases

Morrison curve balled the Giants into submission, the Pirates winning, 3 to 1, by socking Nehf in the opening inning. The defeat reduced the champions' lead to 4 1-2 games.

The Browns finished second behind the Senators for the third time in a row, the visiting firemen mauling their way through Danforth and Kolp to a 7 to 2 victory.

The Reds won two from the Phillies, 6-3 and 8-3. Luque and Benton made every post a winning one and Cy Williams wafted his thirtieth homer of the season.

Grimes folded up in the fifth and the Cubs won, as they pleased from the Doogers, 10-4.

Faber having nothing but four fingers and a thumb, the Yanks clubbed him off the premises in short order and won from the White Sox, 16 to 5.

The Braves beat the Cards, 3 to 2, in a game featured by circus fielding on the part of Nixon and Stock.

Piercey confined the Tigers to four hits and the Red Sox won 6 to 2.

Baseball Gossip

New Orleans has a woman indoor baseball league.

Detroit District Soccer League plans to start the coming season with 15 clubs.

The lid has been clamped down tight on the boxing game in Missouri by the governor of that State.

Mike McTigue and Young Stribling, the Georgia battler, probably will meet at Columbus, Ga., on Labor Day.

Jem Mace was in his 40th year when he defeated his rival, Tom Allen, in a terrific battle for the championship.

Twenty-five thousand dollars in prizes will be given for the 150-mile international motor boat sweepstakes in the coming Gold Cup regatta at Detroit.

Portland's recent run of nine straight victories did much to boost the percentage of the Beavers in the Pacific Coast league standing.

At the seven-day autumn meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club, opening at Toronto on Sept. 22, the sum of $23,000 will be distributed in prizes for steeplechasing alone.

Like the baby in the well-known soap ad, the city of San Diego evidently won't be satisfied until it gets a franchise in the Pacific Coast baseball league.

H. A. Walker-Macran, the Bristol (Eng.) policeman discovered by Tex O'Rourke as a possible contender for Dempsey's heavyweight crown has already crowded a remarkable life into twenty-two years. The son of a clergyman, he was educated at Oxford University. Knowing that the police force offers excellent opportunities in these days, he decided to start at the bottom of the ladder, and after a spell in the army he joined the Bristol constabulary.

ST CLAIREVILLE, Aug. 21 — John D. Hayes, who represented the 29th and 22nd districts in the state senate, is circulating a petition for mayor of this village. Henry M. Davies, the present incumbent and a Civil War veteran, will be a candidate for re-election. Hays was county treasurer and is a representative before becoming state senator. Both he and Davies are Republicans.

AKRON, Aug. 21 —Pittsburg beer was quoted at $37.50 a keg at the courthouse here, after Judge F. D. Frith finished with C. Carpenter, who pleaded guilty of having eight kegs of beer in his possession. The court assessed a fine of $300, and warned him that if he came back on another Crabbe act violation, the fine would be $1000.

AKRON'S LITTLE GIRL TENNIS WONDER NOW ASPIRES TO MEET GREAT SUZANNE

Miss Helen Willis.

But one person now stands between Helen Wills, seventeen-year-old California tennis marvel, and the world's net title for women. It's Suzanne Lenglen, world's champion. Miss Wills won the American title by defeating Molla Mallory in straight sets. Miss Wills and the French flash probably will clash at Wimbledon next year.

It is only through defeating Mlle. Langlen in the Wimbledon matches that Miss Wills can win the French girl's world title. Mrs. Mallory defeated Miss Wills last year, but in the recent matches she was overwhelmed by youth.

By MISS LUCY MORR

The decorations were beautiful, the color scheme of yellow and white was successfully carried out. A profusion of garden flowers added to the attractiveness of the decorations. A unique center-piece, designed to represent a traveler's trunk, was prettily decorated in crepe paper. Streamers led from the guests' plates to the center-piece and each guest handed her streamer to the bride-to-be which led to a gift in the trunk. Games and contests furnished the evening's entertainment, and a dainty luncheon was served. Dainty favors and place-cards representing tiny boats were used. Hot tea, coffee or boiling water cannot mar the smooth, brilliant, mirror-like finish, or turn it white.
Water-Spar is water-proof. And more! It is the most durable, long wearing, permanently glossy varnish you can buy. Use it everywhere—on floors, furniture, woodwork, watercraft, etc. See the remarkable water-proof test of Water-Spar in our window—a varnished wood panel submerged in water month after month. It never turns white.

POLLY AND HER PALS--BY CLIFF STERRETT

INVESTMENT WITH SAFETY

$24,000,000 is a conservative estimate of the value of the property of The Ohio Public Service Company, all located within easy automobile journey from your home. More extensions are needed.

For twenty years the same organization has been making less favorably located plants pay, so there can be little doubt as to the earning power of money invested here.

Hundreds of your neighbors own Preferred stock to their own satisfaction.

Any honest banker who knows the facts will recommend it.

AMERICA'S RELATION TO EUROPE

A writer in "The Nation" under the caption of "Uncle Sam, Hermit?," makes some signicant statements concerning Hiram Johnson's recent speech in New York.

"'Ignore Europe,' Hiram Johnson exhorts us, and straightway set the example by discoursing of her in a speech that fills nearly a page of the daily paper. Even across 'the God-given vantage of 3000 miles of protecting waters' he cannat resist the pull of the European magnet, struggle against it as he may. Nor can anyone else who is ambitious of influencing American opinion. It is easy to poke fun at the flight of so many Senatorial swallows over the ocean this summer, but their instinctive resort to Europe to see conditions there at first hand is full of significance."

Why are our statesmen, scholars and publicists traveling over Europe? It is because they recognize the close relationship that exists today among the nations of the world. We are but a neighborhood after all. Few things can happen there of even small importance but what it affects us. We can no more ignore Europe as Senator Johnson suggests than we can ignore the tides or the sun, or the atmosphere. It is a part of us and we are a part of it. We can shut our eyes and bury our head ostrich-like, and quack, quack out the thought that it does not exist, but it does not change the facts. It is there, and in worse condition, when we pull our head out of the sand and more near to the point of injuring us than before.

An Englishman traveling in this country some years ago declared that when the Americans were confronted with a perfectly plain duty that they did not want to perform and were determined not to perform, they called it a "problem". We are afraid this question of our relation to the other nations is becoming quite clearly an "American problem" in that sense.

THE MATTER OF BEING PRESIDENT.

We were interested in reading the other day an argument that a writer put up for Henry Ford for President. But it is an argument that might be put up for anybody; for Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin, Tom Marshall or Thomas Murray Butler. Whether we agree with it or not, it is interesting and out of the ordinary. Here it is.

"What essential difference does it make who is president anyway? We have had with equal success, or lack thereof, both dolts and messiahs in the office. These governments, organized for the dual purpose of transferring the wealth of certain of the governed to certain others of the governed, and of restricting the liberties of the governed, become in time wealthy and powerful self-perpetuating machines, and the personality, character, and equipment of the man who nominally rules matters not at all. The machine continues to function in its relentless way from pure momentum.

"Until some sincere effort is made either to view government economically instead of politically, or to make government serve rather than rule and restrict the governed, I cannot for the life of me see that it makes an iota of difference what figurehead we adopt or how impotent mentally said figurehead be, or why you bandy so many words over a matter so patently inconsequential."

SUPPORTING THE FAMILY ON "PIN MONEY"

The United States Department of Labor has recently published a pamphlet entitled "The Share of Wage-Earning Women in Family Support." This pamphlet brings out several things with clear distinction. It shows that practically every married woman who is a wage earner contributes all she earns to the support of the home, and of those who are not married, from 60 to 90 percent of their entire earnings is contributed to the home. It shows further that among the unmarried young men and women a much larger proportion of the girls contribute their total earnings than do the boys for the entire period that they have been at work.

It is quite significant that no appreciable number of women keep their wages for their own use. This pamphlet shows that from 86 to 96 per cent of the earnings of the women go to the families, that while only from 78 to 84 per cent of the men.

"We should like to have had these figures at hand last winter when the argument was presented by those who were theorizing on the "living wage," that all the women were working for in industry, any how, was pin money.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

LOWER RAIL RATE DEMAND OF FARMERS MUST BE HEEDED, SAYS FARM BUREAU LEADER

"Among the foremost issues in the coming presidential campaign will be transportation rates. The farmers are going to insist on lower transportation rates, for they are cost factors which enter both into the sale of farm products and into the price which farmers have to pay for the commodities they use or consume." This is the view of Gray Silver, American Farm Bureau Federation leader. He says:

Gray Silver

"The farmers possibly have a keener interest in railroad rates than any other class. This is true because they pay 55 per cent or more of the four billion dollars representing the cost of transportation in this country, and this is a heavy toll on the farmers' pocketbooks. Of the total production of American farm products, twelve to fourteen billion dollars annually, eight to ten billion dollars worth leave the farm. The question of transportation begins at the farmers' gates. The freight transportation bill is something like four billion dollars, and since the farmers pay a little more than half of this the farmers' railroad bill amount to about two billion dollars. Around one-fifth of the farmers' gross income goes to the railroads.

Price Fixing Wrong

"As long as there is a discrepancy in the price of manufactured products when compared with agricultural products there will continue to be agitation for arbitrary government price fixing. This probably will not be fostered by members of the farm bloc and those candidates aspiring permanently to better the position of agriculture, for the fixing of prices on agricultural products would prove only a boomerang to the farmers. Should the price of their commodities be fixed and not the price of commodities which they have to buy, the farmers would be greatly outtraded, for their price would be stabilized or fixed, whereas the prices of manufactured products would be increased to meet the desires of the manufacturers, who control their own price fixing.

"Farmers' taxes have increased so greatly during the last few years that the subject of taxation also will be a national issue.

Proper Relation of Tax

"Taxes must be related closely to the ability of the taxed to pay. When placed upon this basis the farmers' tax burden becomes relatively much heavier than that of other classes. In 1922 the ratio of taxation to income for agricultural classes was about 16 per cent. That for the remainder of the country was only about 12 per cent. The farmers pay more in relation to their income than any other class in the United States, yet it is a fact that the farmer has fewer conveniences than the city dweller. Since taxes go for community improvement, it would seem only equitable and just that the ratio of taxation be changed.

"The farmers will continue to be against a sales tax and for a tax on profits and earning as well as an inheritance tax.

"If the next congress does not accept Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals, it is a foregone conclusion that the farmers, keen in their desire for cheap fertilizers, will make the economics involved in the Ford offer a paramount issue. The consumer of agricultural products as well as the producer, when he understands the far-reaching effect of cheaper fertilizers and the adaptation of water power for the production of electricity, will join the farmers in this demand."
